VICTORIAN GOVERNMENT ONLINE SERVICES INITIATIVE

Better public services, tailored to the needs of the citizen and business, require the seamless flow of information across government.

Whitehorse and Anstra Technologies have recently been appointed by Multimedia Victoria to develop the business case for establishing an information interoperability framework for the Government of Victoria (VicGIIF).

When implemented, the VicGIIF will set out the Government's technical specifications and policies for achieving interoperability across the public sector. The VicGIIF will define the essential prerequisites for joined-up and web enabled government and serve as a basis for reducing the costs and risks associated with carrying out major IT projects.
